Did you know that...

...1 out of 4 families in the Cordilleras were living below the poverty line?

In 2003, a quarter of all families in the Cordillera Administrative Region (CAR) were living below the poverty line. The incidence of poor families stood at 24.8 percent, an improvement of 5.9 percentage points from the 2000 level of 30.7 percent.

This was revealed by the results of the latest poverty estimates released by the National Statistical Coordination Board (NSCB) based on the results of the Family Income and Expenditure Survey (FIES) conducted by the National Statistics Office (NSO).

The incidence of poor population in 2003 was estimated at 31.2 percent, a decline of 6.4 percentage points from the 2000 level of 37.6 percent. In short, 3 out of every 10 Cordillerans were living below the poverty line in 2003.

The poverty line or the annual per capita poverty threshold is the annual per capita income required to satisfy basic nutrition and non-food requirements. For 2003, it was estimated at P 13,976, up by 7.0 percent during the period. For example, a family of six members should have an income of at least P 6,988 per month in order to meet their minimum basic needs.
